Hoshin Kanri: Creating a Culture of Winning

Even when you provide your organization with ample training, it can still be difficult to put advanced policy deployment in place. Advice and coaching from skilled practitioners will ensure a smooth implementation.

Two hours devoted to:

- Delivering high technical business improvement ROI
- Selling advanced policy deployment up, down, and across the organization
- Launching new projects and initiatives for success
- Important methods for making change last
- The essential ingredients for high quality policy deployment
- Three key “make or break” Hoshin Kanri principles
